

Discernment as a Chapter Delegates

- ❖ An appreciation for and practice of a contemplative and discerning approach to the chapter process.
- ❖ An openness to the movement of the Spirit and an attitude of deep listening that recognizes the intrinsic wisdom of the group.
- ❖ A passion for the present and future life of the congregation.
- ❖ A willingness to risk sharing personal insights for the sake of the whole and embrace what is best for the common good.
- ❖ The capacity and willingness to study and reflect on materials in preparation for meetings.

- ❖ The physical and emotional energy for engagement in dialogue, prayer, and decision making.
- ❖ The capacity to participate actively in the implementation process.