

The shared wisdom of our Camilla Sisters

As we reflect upon our common expression of responsible membership, what does it look like? As individuals and as a community

- Closed circuit TV allows sisters to be more present to Congregational events especially Chapter thus being more engaged
- Becoming more positive as individuals as the joyful bearers
- Accepting each individual (lay and sister) and seeing the gift of each person
- Keeping informed through our reading, for example the Angelus and other spiritual resources, and share what we read
- Being good listeners by having a listening heart
- Inviting others to participation(meals, events, meetings)
- Faithfulness to prayer life (both personally and communally)
- Offset the effect of Covid-19 by not isolating ourselves
- Showing care and concern for one another by our respect and compassion for sisters and staff
- Assisting, encouraging and meeting the needs of those in our community and those who walk with us in our ministry
- Being open to the Holy Spirit as we live out our charism and live our Rule as a way of life; being mindful of our “Spirit and Purpose” as read in FW
- Radical availability

Collaboration with and for Mission

What are the beliefs, narratives, and attitudes that foster collaboration with others?

What hinders collaboration with others?

As a community, we are invited to ...

- ...Participate and be informed of social justice issues and to reach out to the wider Church
- ...Invite and affirm the talents and gifts of each sister
- ...To look to future reality of the Church to be better prepared to respond to the needs of our Church and our world
- ...Foster a positive attitude toward living the gospel message as a preparation for mission
- ...Minister with other Congregations, strengthened by the universal charism of religious life and each congregation embracing their own particular charism for the mission of the Church
- ...Collaborate for the purpose of accomplishing the mission of the Church

- ...Be committed to insuring the Eucharist is our priority
- ...Listen with humility
- ...Grow in our dependence on Divine Providence
- ...Recognize things will change and move forward with a new mindset by willingness to let go of the old
- ...Have a positive acceptance of one another
